I. NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED NON-CONSOLIDATED BALANCE SHEET AS OF SEPTEMBER 30, 2016

1. Valuation Methods of Securities

Securities held by the Company including cash and deposits and monetary claims bought which are equivalent to marketable securities, and marketable securities managed as trust assets in money held in trust, are carried as explained below:

The amortization of premiums and accretion of discounts is calculated by the straight-line method.

- (1) Trading Securities
Trading securities are carried at fair value with cost determined by the moving average method.
- (2) Held-to-maturity Bonds
Held-to-maturity bonds are stated at amortized cost determined by the moving average method.
- (3) Policy-reserve-matching Bonds (in accordance with the Industry Audit Committee Report No. 21 “Temporary Treatment of Accounting and Auditing Concerning Policy-reserve-matching Bonds in the Insurance Industry” issued by the Japanese Institute of Certified Public Accountants (JICPA))
Policy-reserve-matching bonds are stated at amortized cost determined by the moving average method.
- (4) Stocks of Subsidiaries and Affiliated Companies
Stocks of subsidiaries and affiliated companies are stated at cost determined by the moving average method.
- (5) Available-for-sale Securities
 - a) Available-for-sale Securities with Market Value
Available-for-sale securities which have market value are valued at fair value as of September 30, 2016 (for domestic stocks, the average value during September), with cost determined by the moving average method.
 - b) Available-for-sale Securities Whose Market Values Are Extremely Difficult to Recognize
 - i) Government/Corporate Bonds (including foreign bonds), whose premium or discount represents interest adjustment are valued at the amortized cost determined by the moving average method.
 - ii) All other securities are valued at cost determined by the moving average method.

Net unrealized gains or losses on these available-for-sale securities are presented as a separate component of net assets and not in the non-consolidated statement of earnings.

2. Policy-reserve-matching Bonds

- (1) Book Value and Market Value
The book value and the market value of policy-reserve-matching bonds as of September 30, 2016 were ¥12,031,068 million and ¥15,580,234 million, respectively.
- (2) Risk Management Policy
The Company categorizes its insurance products into sub-groups by the attributes of each product and, in order to manage risks properly, formulates its policy on investments and resource allocation based on the balance of the sub-groups. Moreover, it periodically checks that the duration gap between policy-reserve-matching bonds and policy reserves stays within a certain range.
The sub-groups of insurance products are:
 - a) individual life insurance and annuities,
 - b) non-participating single premium whole life insurance (without duty of medical disclosure),
 - c) financial insurance and annuities, and
 - d) group annuities,with the exception of certain types.

3. Valuation Method of Derivative Transactions

Derivative transactions are reported at fair value.

4. Revaluation of Land

Based on the “Law for Revaluation of Land” (Publicly Issued Law 34, March 31, 1998), the Company revalued land for business use. The difference between the fair value and book value resulting from the revaluation, net of related deferred taxes, is recorded as a reserve for land revaluation as a separate component of net assets and the related deferred tax liability is recorded as deferred tax liabilities for land revaluation.

(1) Date of revaluation: March 31, 2001

(2) Method stipulated in Article 3 Paragraph 3 of the Law for Revaluation of Land:

The fair value was determined based on the appraisal value publicly announced for tax assessment purposes with certain reasonable adjustments in accordance with Articles 2-1 and 2-4 of the Order for Enforcement of the Act on Revaluation of Land (Cabinet Order No.119, Issued on March 31, 1998).

5. Depreciation of Depreciable Assets

(1) Depreciation of Tangible Fixed Assets Excluding Leased Assets

Depreciation of tangible fixed assets other than leased assets is calculated by the declining balance method (the depreciation of buildings excluding attached improvements and structures acquired on or before March 31, 2016 is calculated by the straight-line method) and is computed by proportionally allocating the estimated depreciation for the fiscal year.

Estimated useful lives of major assets are as follows:

- Buildings two to sixty years
- Other tangible fixed assets two to twenty years

Tangible fixed assets other than land, buildings and leased assets that were acquired for ¥100,000 or more but less than ¥200,000 are depreciated at equal amounts over three years.

7. Reserve for Possible Loan Losses

The reserve for possible loan losses is calculated based on the internal rules for self-assessment, write-offs, and reserves on assets.

For loans to and claims on obligors that have already experienced bankruptcy, reorganization, or other formal legal failure (hereinafter, “bankrupt obligors”) and loans to and claims on obligors that have suffered substantial business failure (hereinafter, “substantially bankrupt obligors”), the reserve is calculated by deducting the estimated recoverable amount of the collateral or guarantees from the book value of the loans and claims after the direct write-off described below.

For loans to and claims on obligors that have not yet suffered business failure but are considered highly likely to fail, the reserve is calculated by taking into account (1) the recoverable amount covered by the collateral or guarantees and (2) an overall assessment of the obligor’s ability to pay.

For other loans and claims, the reserve is calculated by multiplying the actual rate or other appropriate rate of losses from bad debts during a certain period in the past by the amount of the loans and claims.

For all loans and claims, the relevant department in the Company performs an asset quality assessment based on the internal rules for self-assessment, and an independent audit department audits the result of the assessment. The above reserves are established based on the result of this assessment.

For loans to and claims on bankrupt and substantially bankrupt obligors, the unrecoverable amount is calculated by deducting the amount deemed recoverable from collateral or guarantees from the amount of the loans and claims and is directly written off from the amount of the loans and claims. The amount written off during the six months ended September 30, 2016 was ¥57 million.

6. Investment of General Account Assets for the Six Months Ended September 30, 2016

(1) Investment Environment

- During the six months ended September 30, 2016, the Japanese economy experienced low growth due to the slowdown of the recovery in individual consumption and production adjustments caused by a buildup of inventory in the past, while it experienced favorable employment and income conditions.
- The U.S. economy slowed down mainly as a result of the correction of the corporate sector in light of a strong U.S. dollar and a decline of crude oil prices, while individual consumption kept expanding backed by an improved employment and income environment.
- The European economy continued its moderate recovery owing to the enhanced monetary easing measures implemented by the European Central Bank (ECB).
- Given the economic environment described above, the investment environment was as follows:

[Domestic interest rates]

- The ten-year Japanese government bond (JGB) yield once declined close to the -0.3% level, caused by the negative interest rate policy of the Bank of Japan (BOJ). After that, the JGB yield remained stable around zero, because the BOJ set an operating target for the long-term interest rate under the quantitative and qualitative monetary easing measures with yield curve control.

Yield on ten-year government bonds:	April 1, 2016	-0.050%
	September 30, 2016	-0.085%

[Domestic Stocks]

- The Nikkei 225 temporarily declined to below the 15,000 level, due to a global movement forwards risk aversion as a result of the Brexit referendum in the U.K. After that, the Nikkei 225 kept steady due mainly to the expanded ETFs purchases by the BOJ and the announcement of the second supplementary budget of the Japanese Government for this fiscal year.

Nikkei 225 Stock Average:	April 1, 2016	16,758
	September 30, 2016	16,449
TOPIX:	April 1, 2016	1,347
	September 30, 2016	1,322

[Foreign Currency]

- The U.S. dollar remained weak, due to the more cautious stance of the Federal Reserve Board (FRB) on the pace to raise interest rates caused mainly by a crude oil prices and Brexit confusion, as the FRB continued to consider an additional rate hike.
- The yen's appreciation against the euro progressed, due mainly to the uncertainty surrounding the economy of the E.U. in light of the Brexit referendum.

yen /U.S. dollar:	April 1, 2016	¥112.68
	September 30, 2016	¥101.12
yen/euro:	April 1, 2016	¥127.70
	September 30, 2016	¥113.36

(2) Investment Results

[Asset Composition]

- Although the Company continued to set fixed income investments, including government and corporate bonds, as the core of its asset portfolio, consistent with its mid- to long-term investment policies, the Company refrained from purchasing Japanese government bonds. The Company also flexibly allocated to foreign currency-denominated bonds with currency hedges and expanded its investments in new areas, such as the infrastructure sector, in order to further enhance its Asset Liability Management (ALM) strategy and improve its profitability.
- The Company has flexibly changed the allocation of its risk assets (such as domestic stocks and foreign securities intended to promote diversification and to improve its profitability) by taking market trends into account.

- The table below summarizes the investment results of the Company's general account by asset class:

Assets	Investment results
Domestic bonds	Decrease The overall balance of domestic bonds, mainly JGBs, decreased as a result of continuous limitation on accumulating policy- reserve- matching bonds which primarily consist of super long-term government bonds. Regarding credit risk products, including corporate bonds and securitized products, the Company strived to improve investment yields by investing in capital securities issued by banks ,such as AT1 bonds and infrastructure projects, and also lengthened the duration of its assets with derivatives to control interest rate risks.
Loans	Slight decrease The overall balance of loans decreased due mainly to contractual maturities. The Company also provided loans to secure adequate risk-adjusted credit spreads, while also paying attention to the credit spread trends in the bond market.
Domestic stocks	Decrease on a market value basis due to a decline in stock prices The overall balance of domestic stocks on a market value basis decreased due to a decline in stock prices, while the Company flexibly changed the allocation by taking market trends into account. The Company also invested in sectors/companies which are expected to grow in the mid-long term, taking into account analyses by in-house analysts.
Foreign bonds	Increase The Company decreased the balance of foreign currency-denominated bonds without currency hedges, taking market trends into account. On the other hand, the Company actively invested in foreign currency-denominated bonds with currency hedges in order to improve investment efficiency within its fixed income assets focusing on international interest spreads. As a result, the balance of foreign bonds increased. Moreover, the Company cautiously controlled risks by diversifying its portfolio by sector and currency and tried to improve investment performance.
Foreign stocks	Decrease The overall balance of foreign stocks decreased due to reduction in the Company's holdings of foreign stocks, taking market trends into account, and the stronger yen. The Company continued to focus on diversification by investment style and geographical composition of its foreign stock portfolio, utilizing both third-party asset managers and in-house managers.
Real estate	Slight increase in real estate for rent The Company pursued an improvement in profitability of the existing real estate portfolio by (a) investing in new residential properties and selling properties with lower profitability and (b) renegotiating rents and improving vacancy rates. Also, the Company strived to increase the value of existing properties by renovating and reconstructing them.

Note: Underlined changes in assets above are described on a balance sheet amount basis.

[Investment income and expenses]

- Investment income decreased by ¥19.7 billion, compared to the same period last year, to ¥526.2 billion, due mainly to an decrease in interest and dividends and gains on sale of securities, while derivative transaction gains increased.
- Investment expenses decreased by ¥6.2 billion to ¥120.6 billion, due mainly to a decrease in derivative transaction losses, while foreign exchange losses increased.
- As a result, net investment income decreased by ¥13.4 billion to ¥405.6 billion year-on-year.

(3) Investment Environment Outlook for the Six Months Ending March 31, 2017

- For the six months ending March 31, 2017, the Company expects that the Japanese economy will be on track for a modest recovery supported by positive effects such as (a) increases in capital investment due to the low interest rate environment and (b) economic measures by the Japanese Government, while private consumption might remain sluggish. Additionally, the quantitative and qualitative monetary easing measures of the BOJ, which seek to maintain a long-term low interest rate environment, are expected to support the economy.
- Moreover, the Company is paying attention to a possible jump of financial markets volatility due to high geopolitical risks due to political issues in the U.S. and Europe, such as the U.S. presidential elections and U.K.'s negotiations to leave the EU.

[Domestic interest rates]

- The Company estimates that domestic interest rates will remain low, as the BOJ is expected to maintain its quantitative and qualitative monetary easing measures with yield curve control for the long term, because it may be difficult for the inflation rate to achieve the 2% target for a while.

[Domestic stocks]

- The Company forecasts that the domestic stock market will remain brisk, due to positive effects such as (a) the monetary easing measures of the BOJ, including the asset purchase program, and (b) economic measures by the Japanese Government in the second supplementary budget for this fiscal year.

[Foreign currency]

- The Company forecasts that the overall yen depreciation trend against the U.S. dollar will continue, as the FRB will raise interest rates in the United States at a moderate pace, and the BOJ is expected to maintain its monetary easing measures for the long term in order to achieve its inflation target rate.
- For euro-yen rates, while the trends in current account surplus in the Euro-zone support an appreciation of the euro against the yen, the enhanced monetary easing measures by the ECB are forecasted to grow. Therefore, we anticipate that the euro-yen rate will move within a certain range for the period.

(4) Investment Policies for the Six Months Ending March 31, 2017

The Company will continue to set fixed income investments, including government and corporate bonds, as the core of its asset portfolio, consistent with its mid- to long-term investment policies. In addition, taking into account market trends, the Company will flexibly change allocation of its risk assets, such as domestic stocks and foreign securities, carried to diversify and improve the overall returns of its investment portfolio.

The table below summarizes the expected investments of the Company's general account by asset class:

Assets	Investment policies

Taking the current low interest rate environment into account, the Company will continuously refrain from purchasing Japanese government bonds. In terms of credit risk assets, the Company will invest in new areas such as infrastructure projects.
Loans	Decrease While actively providing new loans to fulfill capital needs in growth areas, the overall loan balance of the Company is expected to decrease due mainly to contractual maturities. The Company intends to provide new loans by setting appropriate credit spreads, with attention to borrowers' profiles and credit spread levels in the corporate bond market.
Domestic stocks	Basically flat but flexible increase or decrease The overall domestic stocks balance of the Company is expected to be flat, taking into account appropriate risk control, but the Company will flexibly change the allocation of domestic stocks, following market trends. In order to improve the profitability of the portfolio, the Company intends to replace some companies/sectors based on competitiveness, growth potential, and/or the degree to which they are undervalued.
Foreign bonds	Basically flat but flexibly increase or decrease As for foreign currency-denominated bonds without currency hedges, the Company will flexibly change the allocation of this asset class based on exchange rate trends, while carefully monitoring the effect of diversification among risk assets. As for foreign currency-denominated bonds with currency hedges, the Company will flexibly change the allocation of this asset class in order to improve investment efficiency within its fixed income assets, while carefully monitoring domestic and foreign interest rate differentials.
Foreign stocks	Increase Taking market trends into account, the Company will increase its investments in new areas, including overseas infrastructure sectors. In order to improve the profitability and stability of the portfolio, the Company also continues to seek regional diversification, as well as investment style diversification.

3. Claims for special attention are loans on which principal and/or interest are past due for three months or more and loans with a concessionary interest rate, as well as loans with renegotiated conditions in favor of the borrower, including renegotiated schedule and/or waivers, in each case, other than the loans described in note 1. or 2. above.

- Note: 1. For loans and claims to bankrupt and substantially bankrupt obligors, the unrecoverable amount is calculated by deducting the amount deemed recoverable from collateral and guarantees from the amount of the loans and claims and is directly written off from the amount of the loans and claims. The write-offs relating to bankrupt borrowers as of March 31, 2016 and September 30, 2016 were 2 million yen and 2 million yen, respectively. Accrual of interest on such loans have been suspended based upon a determination that collection or repayment of principal or interest is unlikely due to significant delay in payment of principal or interest or for some other reason.
3. Delinquent loans are credits that are delinquent other than credits to bankrupt borrowers and loans for which interest payments have been suspended to assist and support the borrowers in the restructuring of their businesses.
4. Loans past due for three months or more are loans for which interest or principal payments are delinquent for three months or more under the terms of the loans, excluding those loans classified as credits to bankrupt borrowers or delinquent loans.
5. Restructured loans are loans for which certain concessions favorable to borrowers, such as interest reductions or exemptions, postponement of principal or interest payments, release from repayment or other agreements have been negotiated for the purpose of assisting and supporting the borrowers in the restructuring of their businesses. Building Management Co., Ltd. and others) of the Parent Company were not accounted for under the equity method. These companies had, individually and in the aggregate, a minimal impact on the consolidated financial statements, in terms of net income (loss), retained earnings and others.

3. Interim Closing Dates of Consolidated Subsidiaries

The interim closing date of domestic consolidated subsidiaries is September 30, whereas that of foreign consolidated subsidiaries is June 30 or September 30. Financial information as of those closing dates is used to prepare the consolidated financial statements, although necessary adjustments are made when significant transactions take place between the account closing date of an individual subsidiary and that of the consolidated financial statements.

II. NOTES TO UNAUDITED CONSOLIDATED BALANCE SHEET AS OF SEPTEMBER 30, 2016

1. Valuation Methods of Securities

Securities held by the Parent Company and its consolidated subsidiaries including cash and deposits and monetary claims bought which are equivalent to marketable securities, and marketable securities managed as trust assets in money held in trust, are carried as explained below:

The amortization of premiums and accretion of discounts is calculated by the straight-line method.

(1) Trading Securities

Trading securities are carried at fair value with cost determined by the moving average method.

(2) Held-to-maturity Bonds

Held-to-maturity bonds are stated at amortized cost determined by the moving average method.

(3) Policy-reserve-matching Bonds (in accordance with the Industry Audit Committee Report No. 21 “Temporary Treatment of Accounting and Auditing Concerning Policy-reserve-matching Bonds in the Insurance Industry” issued by JICPA)

Policy-reserve-matching bonds are stated at amortized cost determined by the moving average method.

(4) Stocks of Non-consolidated Subsidiaries and Affiliated Companies Not Accounted for under the Equity Method

Stocks of non-consolidated subsidiaries and affiliated companies not accounted for under the equity method are stated at cost determined by the moving average method.

(5) Available-for-sale Securities

(a) Available-for-sale Securities with Market Value

Available-for-sale securities which have market value are valued at fair value as of September 30, 2016 (for domestic stocks, the average value during September), with cost determined by the moving average method.

(b) Available-for-sale Securities Whose Market Values Are Extremely Difficult to Recognize

i) Government/Corporate bonds (including foreign bonds) whose premium or discount represents the interest adjustment are valued at the amortized cost determined by the moving average method.

ii) All other securities are valued at cost determined by the moving average method.

Net unrealized gains or losses on these available-for-sale securities are presented as a separate component of net assets and not in the consolidated statement of earnings.

Securities held by certain foreign consolidated subsidiaries are stated at cost determined by the first-in first-out method.

2. Risk Management Policy of Policy-Reserve-Matching Bonds

The Parent Company and certain of its consolidated subsidiaries categorize their insurance products into sub-groups by the attributes of each product and, in order to manage risks properly, formulate their policies on investments and resource allocation based on the balance of the sub-groups. Moreover, they periodically check that the duration gap between policy-reserve-matching bonds and policy reserves stays within a certain range. The sub-groups of insurance groups of the Parent Company are:

- individual life insurance and annuities,
 - non-participating single premium whole life insurance (without duty of medical disclosure),
 - financial insurance and annuities, and
 - group annuities,
- with the exception of certain types.

The sub-groups of insurance groups of certain consolidated subsidiaries of the Parent Company are:

- individual life insurance and annuities (yen-denominated, short-term),
 - individual life insurance and annuities (yen-denominated, long-term),
 - individual life insurance and annuities (U.S. dollar-denominated),
 - individual life insurance and annuities (Australian dollar-denominated), and
 - individual life insurance and annuities (New Zealand dollar-denominated),
- with the exception of certain types and contracts.

3. Valuation Method of Derivative Transactions

Derivative transactions are reported at fair value.

4. Revaluation of Land

Based on the “Law for Revaluation of Land” (Publicly Issued Law 34, March 31, 1998), the Parent Company revalued land for business use. The difference between the fair value and book value resulting from the revaluation, net of related deferred taxes, is recorded as a reserve for land revaluation as a separate component of net assets and the related deferred tax liability is recorded as deferred tax liabilities for land revaluation.

- Date of revaluation: March 31, 2001
- Method stipulated in Article 3 Paragraph 3 of the Law for Revaluation of Land

The fair value was determined based on the appraisal value publicly announced for tax assessment purposes with certain reasonable adjustments in accordance with Articles 2-1 and 2-4 of the Order for Enforcement of the Act on Revaluation of Land (Cabinet Order No.119, Issued on March 31, 1998).

5. Depreciation of Depreciable Assets

(1) Depreciation of Tangible Fixed Assets Excluding Leased Assets

Depreciation of tangible fixed assets other than leased assets is calculated by the declining balance method (the depreciation of buildings excluding attached improvements and structures acquired on or before March 31, 2016 is calculated by the straight-line method) and is computed by proportionally allocating the estimated depreciation for the fiscal year.

Estimated useful lives of major assets are as follows:

- Buildings: two to sixty years
- Other tangible fixed assets: two to twenty years

Tangible fixed assets other than land, buildings and leased assets that were acquired for ¥100,000 or more but less than ¥200,000 are depreciated at equal amounts over three years.

With respect to tangible fixed assets acquired on or before March 31, 2007 and that are depreciated to their final depreciable limit, effective the fiscal year ended March 31, 2008, the remaining values are depreciated at equal amounts over five years following the fiscal year end when such assets were depreciated to their final depreciable limit.

Depreciation of tangible fixed assets owned by consolidated subsidiaries in Japan is principally calculated by the declining balance method, while the straight-line method is principally used to compute depreciation for such assets of consolidated overseas subsidiaries.

(2) Amortization of Intangible Fixed Assets Excluding Leased Assets

The Parent Company and its consolidated subsidiaries use the straight-line method for amortization of intangible fixed assets excluding leased assets. Amortization of software for internal use is based on the estimated useful lives of two to eight years.

(3) Depreciation of Leased Assets

Depreciation for leased assets with regard to finance leases whose ownership does not transfer to the lessees is computed under the straight-line method assuming zero remaining value and using the lease periods as the useful lives.

(4) Accumulated Depreciation of Tangible Fixed Assets

Accumulated depreciation of tangible fixed assets as of September 30, 2016 was ¥619,813 million.

6. Translation of Assets and Liabilities Denominated in Foreign Currencies into Yen

The Parent Company and its domestic consolidated subsidiaries translated foreign currency-denominated assets and liabilities (excluding stocks of its non-consolidated subsidiaries and affiliated companies not accounted for under the equity method) into yen at the prevailing exchange rate as of September 30, 2016. Stocks of non-consolidated subsidiaries and affiliated companies not accounted for under the equity method are translated into yen at the exchange rate on the dates of acquisition. Assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses of the Parent Company's consolidated overseas subsidiaries are translated into yen at the exchange rates at the end of their interim periods. Translation adjustments associated with the consolidated overseas subsidiaries are included in "foreign currency translation adjustments" in the net assets section of the consolidated balance sheet.

For certain consolidated subsidiaries of the Parent Company, changes in fair value of bonds included in foreign currency-denominated available-for-sale securities related to foreign currency-denominated insurance contracts are divided into two: changes in fair value due to changes in market prices in their original currencies are accounted for as "net unrealized gains (losses) on securities", and the remaining changes are reported in "foreign exchange gains (losses)".

7. Reserve for Possible Loan Losses

The reserve for possible loan losses is calculated based on internal rules for self-assessment, write-offs, and reserves on assets.

For loans to and claims on obligors that have already experienced bankruptcy, reorganization, or other formal legal failure (hereinafter, "bankrupt obligors") and loans to and claims on obligors that have suffered substantial business failure (hereinafter, "substantially bankrupt obligors"), the reserve is calculated by deducting the estimated recoverable amount of the collateral or guarantees from the book value of the loans and claims after the direct write-off described below.

For loans to and claims on obligors that have not yet suffered business failure but are considered highly likely to fail, the reserve is calculated taking into account (1) the recoverable amount covered by the collateral or guarantees and (2) an overall assessment of the obligor's ability to pay.

For other loans and claims, the reserve is calculated by multiplying the actual rate or other appropriate rate of losses from bad debts during a certain period in the past by the amount of the loans and claims.

For all loans and claims, the relevant department in the Parent Company performs an asset quality assessment based on the internal rules for self-assessment, and an independent audit department audits the result of the assessment. The above reserves are established based on the result of this assessment.

For loans and claims to bankrupt and substantially bankrupt obligors, the unrecoverable amount is calculated by deducting the amount deemed recoverable from collateral and guarantees from the amount of the loans and claims and is directly written off from the amount of the loans and claims. The amount written off during the six months ended September 30, 2016 was ¥57 million.

8. Reserve for Possible Investment Losses

In order to provide for future investment losses, a reserve for possible investment losses of the Parent Company is established for securities whose market values are extremely difficult to recognize. It is calculated based on the internal rules for self-assessment, write-offs, and reserves on assets.

9. Reserve for Retirement Benefits of Directors, Executive Officers and Corporate Auditors

For the reserve for retirement benefits of directors, executive officers and corporate auditors of the Parent Company, (1) an estimated amount for future payment out of the total amount of benefits for past service approved by the 105th general meeting of representative policyholders of the Parent Company and (2) an estimated amount for future corporate-pension payments to directors, executive officers, and corporate auditors who retired before the 105th general meeting of representative policyholders of the Parent Company are provided.

For the reserve for retirement benefits of directors, executive officers, and corporate auditors of certain consolidated subsidiaries, an amount considered to have been rationally incurred during the interim period is provided.

10. Reserve for Possible Reimbursement of Prescribed Claims

To prepare for the reimbursement of claims for which prescription periods had expired, the Parent Company provided for reserve for the possible reimbursement of prescribed claims an estimated amount based on past reimbursement experience.

11. Net Defined Benefit Liabilities and Net Defined Benefit Assets

For the net defined benefit liabilities and the net defined benefit assets, an amount is considered to have been rationally incurred during the interim period provided by deducting the pension assets from the projected benefit obligations based on the estimated amounts as of March 31, 2017.

Accounting treatment for retirement benefits is as follows.

(1) Allocation of estimated retirement benefits

In calculating the projected benefit obligations, the benefit formula basis is adopted to allocate estimated retirement benefits to the period until March 31, 2017.

(2) Amortization of actuarial differences

Actuarial differences are amortized under the straight-line method through a certain period (three or seven years) within the employees' average remaining service period, starting from the following year. Certain overseas subsidiaries applied the corridor approach.

In addition, certain consolidated subsidiaries applied the simplified method in calculating their projected benefit obligations.

12. Reserve for Price Fluctuations

A reserve for price fluctuations is calculated in accordance with the provisions of Article 115 of the Insurance Business Act.

13. Methods for Hedge Accounting

(1) Methods for Hedge Accounting

Hedging transactions are accounted for in accordance with the "Accounting Standards for Financial Instruments" (ASBJ Statement No. 10). Primarily, (a) special hedge accounting and the deferral hedge method for interest rate swaps are used for cash flow hedges of certain loans, government and corporate bonds, loans payable and bonds payable; (b) the currency allotment method and the deferral hedge method using foreign currency swaps and foreign currency forward contracts are used for cash flow hedges against exchange rate fluctuations in certain foreign currency-denominated bonds, loans, loans payable and bonds payable and certain foreign currency-denominated term deposits and stocks (forecasted transaction); (c) the fair value hedge method using currency options and foreign currency forward contracts is used for hedges against exchange rate fluctuations in the value of certain foreign currency-denominated bonds; (d) the deferral hedge method for over-the-counter options on bonds is used for hedges against interest-rate fluctuations in certain foreign currency-denominated bonds; and (e) the deferral hedge method and fair value hedge method using equity options and equity forward contracts are used for hedges against price fluctuations in the value of certain domestic stocks and foreign currency-denominated stocks (forecasted transaction). In addition, the deferral hedge method using interest-rate swaps based on "The accounting and auditing treatment on the application of the financial products accounting standard to the insurance industry" (Industry Audit Practice Committee Report No.26) is used for hedges against interest-rate fluctuations of certain insurance liabilities.

(2) Hedging Instruments and Hedged Items

Hedging instruments	Hedged items
Interest rate swaps	Loans, government and corporate bonds, loans payable, bonds payable, insurance liabilities
Foreign currency swaps.....	Foreign currency-denominated bonds, foreign currency-denominated loans, foreign currency-denominated loans payable, foreign currency-denominated bonds payable
Foreign currency forward contracts	Foreign currency-denominated bonds, foreign currency-denominated term deposits, foreign currency-denominated stocks (forecasted transactions)
Currency options	Foreign currency-denominated bonds
Bond over-the-counter options	Foreign currency-denominated bonds
Equity options	Domestic stocks, foreign currency-denominated stocks (forecasted transactions)
Equity forward contracts.....	Domestic stocks

(3) Hedging Policies

The Parent Company conducts hedging transactions with regard to certain price fluctuation risk and foreign currency risk of underlying assets to be hedged, in accordance with the internal investment policy and procedure guidelines.

(4) Assessment of Hedge Effectiveness

Hedge effectiveness is assessed primarily by a comparison of fluctuations in cash flows or fair value of hedged items to those of hedging instruments.

14. Calculation of National and Local Consumption Tax

The Parent Company and its domestic consolidated subsidiaries account for national and local consumption tax mainly by the tax-exclusion method. Deferred consumption tax included in non-recoverable consumption tax on certain assets is capitalized as other assets and amortized equally over five years in accordance with the Enforcement Ordinance of the Corporation Tax Act, and such taxes other than deferred consumption tax are recognized as an expense for the six months ended September 30, 2016.

15. Policy Reserves

Policy reserves of the Parent Company and its consolidated subsidiaries that operate a life insurance business in Japan are established in accordance with Article 116 of the Insurance Business Act. Insurance premium reserves are calculated as follows. Additional policy reserves for certain whole life insurance contracts as stipulated in Article 69, Paragraph 5 of the Insurance Business Act are included in the calculations.

- (1) Reserves for policies subject to the standard policy reserve rules are calculated based on the methods stipulated by the Commissioner of Financial Services Agency (Notification of the Minister of Finance No. 48, 1996).
- (2) Reserves for other policies are established based on the net level premium method.

Policy reserves of consolidated foreign subsidiaries are calculated based on the each country's accounting standard, such as US GAAP.

16. Recoverability of Deferred Tax Assets

Effective the six months ended September 30, 2016, the Parent Company applied the "Revised Implementation Guidance on Recoverability of Deferred Tax Assets" (ASBJ Statement No.26 issued on March 28, 2016).

17. Changes in Accounting Policies

Effective the six months ended September 30, 2016, the Parent Company and its domestic consolidated subsidiaries applied the “Practical Solution on a change in depreciation method due to Tax Reform 2016” (PITF No.32 issued on June 17, 2016) in accordance with the revision of the Corporation Tax Act, and changed the depreciation method for improvements attached to buildings and structures acquired on or after April 1, 2016 from the declining balance method to the straight-line method.

The effects of this change on the consolidated financial statements for the six months ended September 30, 2016 are immaterial.

18. Financial Instruments and Others

(1) Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying amount on the consolidated balance sheet, fair value and differences between carrying amount and fair value as of September 30, 2016 were as follows. The following table does not include financial instruments whose fair value is extremely difficult to recognize. (Please refer to (Note 2).)

(Note 1) Notes to Methods for Calculating Fair Value of Financial Instruments, Securities and Derivative Transactions

• Assets

(1) Cash and deposits

As for deposits with maturities, except for those which are close to maturity, present value is calculated by discounting the carrying amount for each segment based on the term, using a deposit interest rate which is assumed to be applied to new deposit. As for deposits close to maturity and deposits without maturity, fair value is based on the carrying amount since fair value is close to the carrying amount.

(2) Call loans

Since all call loans are close to due date and their fair value is close to their carrying amounts, fair value of call loans is based on their carrying amount.

(3) Monetary claims bought

The fair value of monetary claims bought is based on the reasonably calculated price.

(4) Money held in trust

The fair value of stocks is based on the price on stock exchanges and that of bonds is based on the price on bond markets or price presented by counterparty financial institutions. The fair value of mutual funds is based on unit price. The fair value of derivative transactions included in money held in trust is based on the price on derivatives markets.

(5) Securities

The fair value of stocks is based on the price on stock exchanges and that of bonds is based on the price on bond markets or the price presented by counterparty financial institutions. The fair value of mutual funds is based on unit price. As for ownership stakes in partnerships, the amount equivalent to the partnership interest in fair value of the partnership assets is recorded as fair value of the stake in the partnership. Additionally, notes for the securities for each investment purpose are described in (2) Securities.

(6) Loans

The fair value of loans is calculated by discounting future cash flows of the subject loan, using interest rates corresponding to the internal credit rating and remaining period which are assumed to be applied to new loans to the subject borrower.

Additionally, for risk-monitored loans, reserve for possible loan losses is calculated based on the present value of estimated future cash flows or the amount deemed recoverable from collateral and guarantees and the fair value is close to the carrying amount on the consolidated balance sheet minus reserve for possible loan losses as of September 30, 2016. Therefore, that amount (the carrying amount on the consolidated balance sheet minus reserve for possible loan losses) is recorded as fair value for risk-monitored loans.

Also, loans without a due date because of their characteristics that their exposure is limited to the amount of their collaterals, are deemed to have fair value close to book value, taking into account estimated repayment period and interest rates. Therefore, their book value is recorded as the fair value.

• Liabilities

(1) Bonds payable

The fair value of bonds is based on the price on the bond market.

(2) Long-term borrowings

The fair value of long-term borrowings is calculated by discounting future cash flows, using interest rates corresponding to internal credit rating and remaining periods which are assumed to be applied to new borrowings. Also, certain of long-term borrowings are deemed to have fair value close to book value, taking into account interest rates. Therefore, their book value is recorded as the fair value.

• Derivative Transactions

The breakdown of derivative transactions is (1) currency-related transactions (currency forward contracts, currency options, etc.); (2) interest-related transactions (interest rate futures, interest rate swaps, etc.); (3) stock-related transactions (yen stock index futures, foreign currency-denominated stock index futures, etc.); (4) bond-related transactions (yen bond futures, foreign currency-denominated bond futures, etc.). The fair value of the instruments is based on the exchange-traded prices and the prices quoted from counterparty financial institution, etc.

(Note 2) Financial instruments whose fair value is extremely difficult to recognize are as follows and are not included in the fair value of (5) Securities in (Note 1)

(1) Overview of the transactions

(a) J-ESOP

J-ESOP is a program to grant shares of common stock to the Parent Company’s managerial level employees who fulfill requirements under the Stock Granting Regulations of the Parent Company. The Parent Company vests points to each managerial level employee based on her/his total points at retirement. Such stocks, including stocks to be granted in the future, are purchased by money held in the J-ESOP trust, managed separately from books of the Parent Company.

(b) E-Ship®

E-Ship® is an incentive program for employees who are members of the Dai-ichi Life Insurance Employee Stock Holding Partnership (the “Partnership”). In the E-Ship® plan, the Parent Company sets up a trust through a trust bank. The trust estimates the number of shares of common stock of the Parent Company which the Partnership is to acquire in 5 years and purchases the shares in advance. The Partnership buys shares of the Parent Company from the trust periodically. At the end of the trust period, the Partnership’s retained earnings, accumulation of net gains on sale of shares of the Parent Company, are to be distributed to the members, who fulfill the requirements for eligible beneficiaries. On the other hand, the Parent Company will pay off retained loss, accumulation of net losses on sale of the shares and any amount equivalent to the amount of outstanding debt at the end of period, as it is to guarantee the debt of the trust needed to purchase the shares.

The trust fund for Dai-ichi Life Insurance Employee Stock Holding Partnership has closed as of July 2016.

(2) Background for Recognition of Impairment Losses

As a result of significant declines in profitability or market value of some asset groups, the Parent Company wrote down the book value of these assets to the recoverable value, and reported such write-off as impairment losses in extraordinary losses.

Impairment losses by asset group were as follows:

Real estate not in use	Yokkaichi City, Mie Prefecture and others	112	6,892	4,411	11,303

(4) Calculation of Recoverable Value

Value in use or net sale value is used as the recoverable value of real estate for rent, and net sale value is used as the recoverable value of real estate not in use. A discount rate of 2.41% was applied for discounting future cash flows in the calculation of value in use. Estimated disposal value, appraisal value based on real estate appraisal standards, or appraisal value based on publicly assessed land value for tax purposes is used as the net sale value.
