(Reference)
FY ended March 31, 2017	6,456.7	425.3	231.2

(1) Reasons for the revision

The Company projects that its consolidated ordinary revenues for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2018 will exceed its previous forecast because it expects an increase in premium and other income of The Dai-ichi Frontier Life Insurance Co., Ltd. due mainly to favorable insurance product sales.

The Company also projects that its consolidated ordinary profit and net income attributable to shareholders of parent company for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2018 will exceed its previous forecast because net income of Protective Life Corporation is expected to increase due to a re-measurement of deferred tax liabilities as a result of a reduction in the United States corporate tax rate. Furthermore, ordinary profit and net income of The Dai-ichi Life Insurance Company, Limited are expected to increase due to factors including an increase in investment income resulting from favorable economic and financial conditions.

(2) Shareholder dividend forecast

The Company's dividend forecast for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2018 (45 year per share) remains unchanged.

Note: The figures in this release are calculated based on the information available as of the date of this release. Actual results disclosed in the future might be different from the forecasted figures above for various reasons.
