Notice of Expansion of Shareholder Benefit Program

Dai-ichi Life Holdings, Inc. (the “Company”; President: Tetsuya Kikuta) hereby announces the expansion of shareholder benefit program.

1. Purpose of the expansion of the shareholder benefit program

In July 2024, the company introduced the shareholder benefit program to express gratitude for their continued support, deepen their understanding of the Dai-ichi Life group’s business through the daily use of its services, enhance the attractiveness of the Company’s shares as an investment option, and encourage as many shareholders as possible to hold them over the mid- to long-term. On this occasion, the company will revise the shareholder benefit program to make it more attractive than ever, allowing you to experience the healthcare app “QOLism” and the membership-based comprehensive lifestyle service “Benefit Station” more closely and ensuring your full satisfaction.

2. Details of the expansion of the shareholder benefit program

(1) Health care application “QOLism”

The company will increase the base points awarded annually for new registrations and continued use from the equivalent of 500 yen to 1,000 yen, and will also expand the maximum possible points to the equivalent of 5,500 yen. The points earned in 'QOLism' can be exchanged for electronic money or gift items.

(2) Membership-based comprehensive lifestyle service “Benefit Station”

As an initial registration bonus, 500 yen worth of “Benefit Points” (Benepo*) will be awarded.

* "Benepo" can be used at services that display the “Benepo Usable” mark, where 1 point equals 1 yen. These points can be used towards service fees, or exchanged for points from other companies, electronic money, and more.

- * Shareholders who are already using “Benefit Station” as of March 31, 2024, under the shareholder benefits program, will also be awarded the initial registration points if they continue using “Benefit Station” under the shareholder benefits program as of March 31, 2025.
